"Transition" is written and directed by Nica Noelle. "Nica took the true story of River Stark's transition and brought it to life, capturing all her emotion and struggle," says Mile High Media Vice President Jon Blitt. "This is a film sure to redefine what fans expect from the trans genre – and regardless of your sexuality, there is no denying the power of 'Transition.'"

The story begins when handsome James (Stark) goes off to war, and beautiful, devoted Angie (Carrera) spends her days awaiting his return. But when James is unexpectedly discharged, Angie finds that the person who comes home to her is not the same man who left.

In an emotional exchange, Angie discovers James has begun gender reassignment surgery, and her world is turned upside down. As their marriage implodes, Angie tries to open her mind to a new life - sex with a TS woman (Brooks) - while James finds solace in the arms of an ex (Lauren). The question becomes whether their love survive the Transition.

River Stark proudly teamed with Nica and Mercedes to deliver "Transition," stating, "Everything fell in its place with this film. Mercedes and I got to work on something meaningful that went beyond just bodies coming together on camera; thankfully it involved a lot of other equally dedicated people. I believe Nica's amazing directing allowed pieces to shuffle and fall in the right order to give everyone involved an immense sense of ownership in what we were creating, which you don't see a lot of in what we do."

River continues, "I feel like that all culminated in the naming of the film itself. The title 'Transition' came up, and it just made sense. For me it meant a few different things. It was a social and medical transition of a character in a film; transition of a soldier from battle to civilian life; a transition away from the narrative that sex workers are exploited drones; a transition from the stigma that stands between trans people and mainstream porn; a transition away from casting cisgender [non-trans] people as trans people, and so on. The first time I heard the films name I was all about it, as was the case with the entire film. It has definitely turned into one of the best projects I've been a part of and something I plan on doing more of in future work."

Inspired by Mile High Media and award-winning director Nica Noelle's success with awarded gay romance studio Icon Male, and studios Sweet Sinner and Sweetheart Video, TransSensual exemplifies Noelle's distinctive style with a slight twist, producing trans-positive erotica, deviating from the typical TS porn genre. TransSensual highlights the most stunning TS performers with an emphasis on ordinary people, confronted with sexual temptation and conflict, focusing on the emotions that fuel real, passionate sex.
